Weatherization Public Guidance

January 25, 2024

KHC Program Notice 01-2024

1. Subject: Contractor Training Requirements – Policy Change

Guidance: Currently, Kentucky Housing Corporation requires all contractors performing weatherization to receive all trainings required for retrofit installer training and crew leader training.

Effective immediately, any HVAC, electrical, or plumbing contractors, who are onboarded for weatherization to perform tasks only included in their professional licensure, will not be required to attend weatherization training. They will only be allowed to perform duties that their professional training allows them to perform. General weatherization contractor tasks, such as insulation installation, air sealing, duct sealing, Ashrae fan installation, are not part of those professional duties and would fall subject to the training requirements for general weatherization contractors. (The new policy does not retroact to work performed on in-progress or completed jobs to date, which should have been performed by procured contractors who have attended the appropriate Weatherization trainings.)

All contractors are still subject for having training for first aid, lead-based paint, and Renovation, Repair, and Painting (RRP) certifications.
